P. L. 636 - 81st Congress

OGC Has Reviewed

16 October 1950

1. The attached Bill, Public Law 636, establishes a uniform procedure for the disposition of compensation accruing to deceased employees. Its most important effect is to provide for direct settlement on definite terms by the Agencies concerned rather than requiring the intervention of GAO and the resultant time lag.

2. As this is new legislation, it appears that it is of general interest to all employees and we have suggested a draft notice. Fiscal may have already approached you as they are aware of the enactment of this law.
